EN FÉDÉRATION DE RUSSIE

PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS

Dear Sir/Madam,

In cooperation with PricewaterhouseCoopers, the Embassy of the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg in the Russian Federation has the pleasure of inviting you to a half-day conference that will take place on 13 October, entitled "Intellectual Property: the Luxembourg dimension". The conference will start at 9:30 and will be held at the Embassy of the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg in Moscow, at Khrouchtchevsky Pereoulouk 3 (nearest metro station Kropotkinskaya).

Located in the heart of Europe, Luxembourg has a long-established reputation as a favoured location for a wide range of international companies with diverse business models from a variety of sectors. The country offers one of the most attractive frameworks for R&D and Intellectual Property in Europe, including a new intellectual property regime that establishes a system of partial exemption on income and capital gains derived from the use and the right to use certain intellectual property rights. The new tax regime is aimed at encouraging investments in intellectual property and R&D by offering a current tax rate of 5.7% on IP income and attractive R&D incentives.

Professionals from PricewaterhouseCoopers Luxembourg and PricewaterhouseCoopers Moscow will cover important tax aspects related to intellectual property issues. Speakers will include:

Alexander Jaumotte, Partner, PwC Luxembourg
Alina Makovei-Grencon, Partner, PwC Luxembourg
Veronica Misiutina, Partner, PwC Russia
Svetlana Stroykova, Director, PwC Russia and Evgenia Veter, Director, PwC Russia

You can find more details about the program enclosed in this letter. Participation is free of charge. Simultaneous translation from/into Russian will be provided.
